A graduate of King's College London, the London School of Economics and the University College London Institute of Education, Stephen Davis has been a member of the Senior Leadership Team at Lampton since 2004. Prior to this he was a member of the School Improvement Service in Hounslow, a Head of Year, Head of Department and classroom teacher in Central London. Mr Davis became Headteacher at Lampton in September 2015 and a Senior Partner of Challenge Partners. 'I am proud to be the Headteacher of Lampton School and to share our successes and the pride we have in our pupils'.

Stephen Davis
Headteacher

I have been a governor at Lampton School for over twenty years and have seen it change into a high performing outstanding academy. Both my boys have attended Lampton and moved onto Warwick University. They are now very successful young men, due in no small part to the grounding given to them by Lampton. I have stayed as a governor at Lampton to give back to the school community what they have given my family. I am now retired. I was an I.T. Education consultant for Hounslow and felt I had some expertise, beyond that of being a parent to offer the school. Lampton has grown to be a popular well oversubscribed school in no small part due to an outstanding Headteacher, Dame Susan John and the staff which she has led and developed. I believe it is important to continue to offer that support to our new headteacher, Mr. Davis. I believe being a governor is acting as a critical friend. I want Lampton to become even more successful and continue to develop further as a Teaching School, onwards and upwards, in what are very challenging times.

As parent governor for the past 5 years I've had the opportunity to make positive contributions to leadership and management of Lampton. I am currently vice chair and a member of the curriculum committee and take a keen interest in the Basketball Academy as both my boys are members. I'm also an active member of 'Friends of Lampton' who strive to raise additional school funds and raise parent concerns.

Proud mum of Nicolas and Daniel in Years 11/12 and Headteacher of local primary school for 17 years I feel I have good understanding of issues schools are currently facing. I am able to use my experience and knowledge to good effect at the secondary stage of education. I regularly visit the school giving me an insight into the running of the school and judge well-being of students and parents. I would like to continue as a parent governor and will continue to support and assist to the best of my ability.

I have been teaching in the Maths department at Lampton since 2004. I am now an Specialist Leader in Education (SLE) working both in school and with primary schools to improve the teaching and learning of mathematics.

Being a governor allows me to gain a better understanding of the education system as a whole and to give back valued time to the school for the excellent care and education they are providing for my children – both of whom are at Lampton. Education is now a very fast moving world with all teachers being expected to juggle not only the skill of teaching but also to be a confident data analyst and communications officers.
